BEACHPORT 2022

THURSDAY 14TH - SUNDAY 17TH APRIL 2022

WORDS: JUANITA MOUNTJOY - PHOTOS: JUANITA & GEOFF

This year only a small group of us attended the annual Beachport trip; The Mountjoy family, the Smith family, the Davey family and Mark Mensch. As usual we based camped at the Southern Ocean Tourist Park and ran day trips from there.

The first day trip was Beachport to Carpenters Rocks. We began with an easy run across the beach to Southend. From Southend we entered Canunda National Park and began our trek to Carpenters Rocks. There were not too many people on the beach and we were travelling along nicely until Marks transmission overheated, so we decided to stop for an early lunch to allow it to cool down.

We continued along the beach after lunch. As typical of this stretch of beach, the sand was quite soft and it wasn't long before we came upon a vehicle that had been stuck in the sand for over an hour. With rising tides, we helped him out, only to turn around and have to recover his friend also! A little further down the beach we came across another vehicle that was well and truly bogged. Once again, we helped them out, as well as their friends. And yes, at one particularly soft exit we even used the Maxtrax to get our own vehicles off the beach! Sensing a pattern of recoveries, we decided to head inland and completed our trip to Carpenters Rocks on the inland tracks.

Saturday morning we had a late start as many of us went down to the local market for a little shop. We headed off to Nora Creina at around 10.30am. Our first treat of the day happened early on in the trip as we passed a beautiful seal sunning himself on the beach. The trip to Nora Creina was without incident, well once everyone got their tyre pressures right! And to top it off, we only recovered one vehicle that wasn't part of our convoy! After lunch we headed from Nora Creina to Robe. The tracks were busier on this side but we kept a reasonable pace.

While we had decided at lunch we were not going to do any more recoveries, we soon came across a young driver whose vehicle was hanging off the side of a sand dune, we couldn't just drive past (both literally and in good conscience!). A number of attempts, 7 in total, were made to recover this vehicle including a snatch, a double line pull on the winch and a short snatch. Eventually it was the power of the 200 series that was needed to get the car back on the track. By this stage a crowd had gathered to watch the proceedings so there was quite a celebration when he was finally out. Matthew scored a large number of beers as thanks for his efforts, which were enjoyed later on that day.

Our final day trip was along the Coorong. We had no sooner entered the beach when, you guessed it, we came across another party that was stuck. This group had a car, caravan and boat all bogged! To get them out would have been a huge, time consuming effort, so we avoided eye contact and drove past them. In fairness, their predicament was due to stupidity, they were close enough to Kingston to call for a recovery vehicle and they were in no danger, so we didn't feel too guilty about driving past them.

This stretch of beach began reasonably easy but as the tide rose we were forced further and further up the beach where the sand was softer and we were often driving off camber. We had a clear destination in mind but it only took one of our party getting bogged, a little time lost, and water was lapping our tyres. With our destination in site we exited off the beach just in time, only to find we had turned off about 500 metres too early! With Mark getting stuck in the entry, and Matthew getting stuck in the exit it was too late to re-enter the beach and fix our mistake, so we had lunch in the dunes and waited it out for a while. After a few hours in the dunes, we headed cross country to our exit, then headed home.

Beachport is always a great trip and even though we do the same tracks each year they are always changing. Thanks to everyone who came along and helped make this trip an awesome long weekend.

Juanita

SAVE THE DATE
FOR THE GEELONG 4WD CLUB'S

SATURDAY 5TH MAY 2023

WYPERFELD NP

FRIDAY 22ND TO MONDAY 25TH APRIL 2022

WORDS: GEOFF DAVEY - PHOTOS: GEOFF & TYLER

The Geelong 4WD Club has been to Wyperfeld and Big Desert on a number of occasions, but we had heard there were a number of good MVO tracks that we might be able to access through the FWDV scheme. In addition we were keen to have a look at O'Sullivan's Pine Plain Lodge.

Andrew contacted Daniel Whitby at FWDV to investigate whether we could access the tracks not listed on the FWDV MVO Track List. Daniel was able to help by contacting Justin Oakley, the Chief Ranger for the Southern Mallee Region to facilitate and approve the process and put Andrew in touch with local Rangers, Hamish Hollamby at Rainbow and Mathew Baker at Speed.

The main convoy led by Andrew set off from Geelong on Friday morning and stopped off to check out some Silo Art along the way. Andrew picked up the MVO track keys before reaching O'Sullivan's Pine Plain Lodge in Wyperfeld National Park, which was to be the base camp for the weekend.

The freehold property was established in 1847 and has been owned by the O'Sullivan family since 1917. It was once a large cattle and sheep station occupying much of the current National Park. The remaining private holding of 400 acres is now run by Genevieve and Jono O'Sullivan as a small farm and tourist lodge.

On arrival we were greeted by Genevieve who was a mine of information about the district and the property and made us all feel welcome. There is plenty of space for camping and even limited power available if required. We set up camp away from the homestead where a large fire pit was to form the focus for evening socialization; even the firewood was supplied by Jono. Tim and Jimmy arrived later that night to complete the group.

Saturday morning we headed north out of the park and then west to re-enter on our first MVO track, Underbool Track. After deflating tyres and confirming that the key would actually open the gate (which we never doubted!), it was south down the track through the central part of the Park into territory which was new to us all. The track was sandy and meandered gently through low Mallee scrub. The base was generally firm with only occasional soft sections so travel was quite easy.

After a lunch stop, we continued south on Nine Mile Square Track and then east in the general direction of the main Wonga Campsite at the southern end of the park. The vegetation here is woodland with Mallee eucalypts, blackbox and tea-tree providing shade. From there it was back north along the wooded Cameron Track and then onto The Freeway. The Freeway is quite sandy with the potential to be soft, but some recent rain had left some moisture in the track which made for relatively easy travel. The vegetation is constantly changing with lower tea-tree scrub along The Freeway becoming wooded again towards the Casuarina Campground where there are Casuarina pines, river redgums and blackbox.

It was a relatively easy days travel and we arrived back at camp at around 3pm so some of the younger members (and young at heart) grabbed a toboggan, which are supplied at the Lodge, and headed off to play on the nearby Snowdrift sand dune. Fortunately all returned intact with no injuries reported.

Sunday was to be a longer day with more ground to cover. We set off south down the Freeway, through the Wonga campground and then to the north end of Lake Albacutya. In view of recent rain it was with some trepidation we decided to take the track across the dry lake bed. The track was soft and a little muddy in places but was negotiated without incident. From there it was along the southern park boundary where we digressed to run up a steep dune on a side track. This was a bit of a challenge but all made it up to enjoy the more distant views.

We continued onto Milmed Rock Track, stopping at Lookout Dune along the way. This provides more great views over the park. Lunch was at Round Swamp Camp where there are tables and toilet facilities. After lunch we backtracked down Milmed Rock Track, deviating to look at Hermie Strauses Garden, then back to the western verge of Lake Albautya. From there Purra Track runs north along the dunes by the lake where the sand is softer and quite fun to drive.

At the top of the lake we entered Archibald Track, another MVO track which then joins Nine Mile Square Track and exits just south of Pine Plains. From there it was up Emu Plains Track, where there are Emus, and back to camp. The fire was duly lit and we settled into another social evening, this time accompanied by a selection of everyone's favorite songs; recordings, NOT karaoke, we draw the line at that!

Monday was a leisurely pack up and return towards Geelong.

Thanks to Tyler and Andrew for a well organised, interesting and fun social trip.

Thanks also to the people already mentioned from FWDV and Parks Victoria for facilitating access to the MVO tracks, it is much appreciated.
